CAL POLY POMONA TELECOMMUTING PROGRAM

I. Introduction

A. California State University ("CSU") supports telecommuting when the campus determines that telecommuting is operationally feasible and is in its best interest. Such instances for telecommuting work arrangements may be considered when there are opportunities for improved operational performance, or as part of a disaster recovery or emergency plan. CSU recognizes that with current technology, it is possible for some employees to perform a variety of duties and job functions from their residences or other equipped sites ("Telecommuting Site"). This Telecommuting Program is designed for the campus's immediate use. Any changes to the program may require notice to the appropriate union(s) and an opportunity to meet and confer on impacts within the scope of representation.

B. CSU recognizes that telecommuting is only feasible for those job duties that can be performed away from campus. In that regard, most telecommuting agreements are voluntary and can be implemented only in instances in which a Department's Appropriate Administrator has determined that the nature of the job duties of a particular position can be performed successfully outside the traditional office setting without an undue impact on campus operations and the CSU's educational mission. Appropriate Administrators and Departments should carefully review the advantages and disadvantages before offering a telecommuting agreement.

C. Employees who are authorized to telecommute must submit a telecommuting agreement. The telecommuting agreement should identify, in advance, what assignments or tasks are appropriate to be performed at the telecommuting site. The employee should understand the expectations and essentials for participating in a successful telecommuting program. Participating employees shall only telecommute from within the State of California unless specifically authorized by the President and permitted by CSU policy.

D. Participation in the campus Telecommuting Program does not alter the rights or benefits provided under the employee's collective bargaining agreement ("CBA") between the California State University and the employees' unions.

E. The University recognizes the significant value of in-person on-site engagement. Accordingly, telecommuting may be full time or part time as determined by the appropriate administrator. Even full-time telecommuting assignments likely will include some on-site obligations. Participating employees will normally be provided 48 hours' notice of return to campus for an on-site obligation except by mutual agreement or in case of unavoidable circumstances.

F. Telecommuting agreements under this program are at the sole discretion of the campus and may be changed or revoked in accordance with this program.

G. Except as expressly set out below for Emergency Business Needs, telecommuting arrangements do not create any additional obligations upon the campus to provide equipment or workspace to the telecommuting employee. Those obligations are based upon the on-site status of the employee only.

Step 3: Perform the safety inspection of your telecommuting worksite to ensure you have a clean, safe, and ergonomically sound workspace that meets each physical/ergonomic condition shown in your Telecommuting Agreement. Then, complete the Telecommuter's Home Safety Checklist.

TELECOMMUTER'S HOME SAFETY CHECKLIST

The Telecommuter is responsible for ensuring a clean, safe, and ergonomically sound home/off-site office as a condition for telecommuting. An initial on-site workplace hazards assessment of the home/off-site office may be deemed necessary. All the conditions below should be met and checked off and are the sole responsibility of the Telecommuter. The Telecommuter should review this checklist with their Appropriate Administrator, and must sign it prior to the start of telecommuting:

Alternate Work Location Physical and Ergonomic Conditions
<input type="checkbox"/>	The Telecommuter agrees to maintain a clearly defined workspace that is clean, free from distractions and obstructions, and is in ergonomically sound condition arranged to work most efficiently and safely.
<input type="checkbox"/>	The work area is adequately illuminated with lighting directed toward the site or behind the line of vision, not in front or above it.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Supplies and equipment (both University and employee-owned) are in good condition.
<input type="checkbox"/>	The area is well ventilated.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Storage is organized to minimize risks of fire and spontaneous combustion.
<input type="checkbox"/>	All extension cords have grounding conductors and do not connect to another extension cord.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Exposed or frayed wiring and cords are repaired or replaced immediately upon detection.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Electrical enclosures (switches, outlets, receptacles, and junction boxes) have tight fitting covers or plates.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Surge protectors are used for computer equipment.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Desk, chair, computer, and all other equipment used for telecommuting are of appropriate design and arranged to eliminate strain on all parts of the body.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Heavy items are securely placed on sturdy stands close to walls.

You must check every box on the checklist or you will see this message:

After reviewing the statement that you certify your telecommuting worksite meets all safety conditions, click on Next.

Two rows are shown: one with a status of 'Denied' and one with a status of 'Initiated'.
