

Academic Senate Constitutional Referendum for Part-Time Lecturer Representation

RESULTS

Question - Do you want to amend the constitution to provide for part-time lecturer faculty representation on the Academic Senate?

Yes	246 (73.4%)
No	74 (22.1%)
Abstain	15 (4.5%)

The Constitution states that “An amendment is ratified by an affirmative vote of a majority of all those enfranchised by the Senate or by 60 percent of those voting, whichever is the smaller.”

Based on the 41 percent voter turnout, a “majority of all those enfranchised” did not apply. Based on 73.4 percent voting in the affirmative, the referendum passed.
